————→ MARCH 16, 1946 ←————

Conner's Crocus Countess and Conner's Silver Belle, daughters of Browndale Sensation 2d, senior herd bull at Lawn View Farms.

Royally Bred Scotch Shorthorns from two strong Central Indiana Herds . . .

The cattle in this sale are from two of the most carefully established herds in Indiana. The two herds are located on adjoining farms and both may be inspected on sale day.

The Lawn View Herd is owned by R. L. Pierce, an Indianapolis businessman, and Oscar Jessup, a capable cattleman who is widely and favorably known among all Shorthorn breeders. The herd was originally founded through the purchase of top individuals from the strong Allison Acres Herd. Later the Allison Acres herd was taken over in its entirety by Messrs. Pierce and Jessup and Lawn View Farms became the home of one of the largest and choicest breeding herds in Indiana. A study of this catalog will reveal the fact that most of the animals trace back to the finest individuals that were ever produced in the famous Conner Prairie Herd. The two herd bulls, Browndale Sensation 2d and Allison's Aristocrat, have sired calves of most approved type and hold a position of high recognition in the industry

Garsons' Farms are owned by G. A. Richey & Sons, also Indianapolis businessmen who believe in and enjoy good livestock farming. In order to start with the strongest possible foundation, they secured at top prices the choicest individuals from the strongest herds in the United States and Canada. At the head of the herd is the sensational young red bull Edellyn Glen Forester, one of the tops in the 1945 Edellyn Sale and easily one of the best bulls sold in that year. Clem Ridgeway, formerly manager of the strong Kahnyon Creek Herd, is now manager at Garsons' Farms and is doing a grand job.

Imp. Collynie Royal Barrage

There are many reasons why this sale offering should appeal to prospective buyers. Chief among these is the fact that the cattle are being offered by men of utmost reliability who will not knowingly sell any animal for breeding purposes that will injure their reputations. Both herds are founded on a basis of utmost permanency. It will be noted that all of the cattle in this sale are young and that each animal has a lifetime of usefulness ahead. The offering is made up of good individuals . . . the thick, blocky, modern type kind. All are offered in good flesh but without the pampering that might be injurious to future usefulness. A study of the catalog reveals bloodlines of great strength and each pedigree is lined with the names of history-making sires. The location of this sale is advantageous to buyers from any part of the country. Indianapolis may be reached easily by rail, plane, bus or motor from any direction and transportation to the farm, 10 miles distant, will be provided.

Because two herd bulls are not needed at Garsons Farms, we are offering our senior herd bull in this sale. He is a solid red son of Browndale Sensation 2d and his dam was a line bred daughter of Glennburn Field Marshal. Note that the fourth dam in his pedigree was the famous imported cow Phingask Myrtle 2d, the greatest breeding cow ever in the Edellyn herd. We bought this bull in the Indiana State Sale in 1943 and have two crops of calves from his service. They have been uniform in their dark colors and of the right type. We can recommend him highly.

Right—Garson's Cap-A-Pie, a good young herd bull prospect. He is Lot 33 in this sale.
